

Notices w/c 19th July

The Government Covid restrictions have been eased.

What does this entail for services in churches and specifically St Paul's?

Canterbury has posted updated advice on their website. The main thrust of this advice is to care for each other and be cautious.

The Standing Committee has met to discuss our response and we encourage you to:-

- Continue to wear facemasks in church.
- Continue to sanitise and maintain your distance within the building.
- Be aware of those who are highly vulnerable and allow them space.
- Adhere to the procedures already established for preparation and receiving of communion.
- Move into and around church as we have established.
- No tea and coffee after church.

On a brighter note, we would encourage:-

- Singing to resume, but while wearing your mask/visor.
- Meet and chat with those who are willing outside the building.

These recommendations will be in place until at least 16th of August. The church wardens will be available to discuss any concerns you may have.

We are looking forward to the installation of Chris Lavender as our interim priest in charge on Tuesday the 24th August at 7pm. Bishop Rose will preside and we invite all parishioners to attend.

Next week the 25th July, Robin Williamson is unable to join us. Gwyn has kindly offered to lead an All-Age service.
